In 1939, a young Columbia University student named Arthur Brody invented the plastic book jacket cover. A student of architectural photography, Brody washed the emulsion off some film and folded it around a book for added protection. The popularity of Brody’s invention grew among his fellow students, and the book jacket cover was officially born.

Books with no dust jacket? Odd-sized books? No problem!

Brodart recommends Film Rolls...
- To cover a large variety of odd-sized books – Film rolls can be cut to any size and shape
- For books with no dust jackets – Paperless film rolls offer great protection against dirt and wear
- For more economical book covering – Cut your own covers to the exact length you need and eliminate waste

For the full line of Brodart Film Rolls, see our current catalog or visit www.shopbrodart.com or www.brodart.ca.

Basics for Applying Book Jacket Covers...

- Insert dust jacket between paper and film.
- Check to ensure the top of the dust jacket meets the top of the cover as shown in inset.
